SLAIN BY ROBBERS.

Michigan Bank Cashier Is Shot at His Post

Wound Received While Protecting the Institution's Money from the Thieves - Dies After Giving Names of His Assailants.

Shepherd, Mich., Aug 23 .- While defending the funds of the Farmers' bank Elmer E. Struble, its cashier and the president of this village, was shot and Tatally wounded by robbers early Saturday morning. He died seven hours later, but recovered consciousness sufficiently to give the authorities the names of his assailants, three in number. There is considerable mystery concerning the murder. Mr. Struble was found in the banking office at six o'clock with two fatal bullet wounds near the heart and life almost extinct. He had been shot two hours earlier, according to his ante-mortem statement. The office gave evidence of a desperate struggle.

Mr. Struble left his house at four o'clock and went to the bank for some Papers to take to Mount Pleasant, intending to return before business hours. The bank is located in a hardware store in the north end of the building, and the living rooms overhead are occupied by E. A. Wisdom and F. M. Taylor and their families. At six o'clock Mr. Wisdom came down to open the store and found the front door open. He went to his desk at the south end of the store, and a moment later heard something drop. Investigation showed the door to the bank office was open and Mr. Struble was lying on the floor, alive but unconscious. The vault door and the steel money chest were both open, most of the books were taken, and all the money was missing, except ten dollars in silver, which was found under the

It is supposed Mr. Struble was in the vault when he was approached from behind, and the robbers, seeing the money chest open, demanded the contents. Mr. Struble, it is believed, refused and started out to escape or shut the safe door. He was then shot in the wrist and side, and while trying to shut the vault door was shot in the back. This did not apparently render him easy prey, as he evidently turned to fight them, and then received the two fatal shots near the heart.

Mr. Struble died at 11 o'clock, but a few moments before death he rallied and made a statement that he recognized the robbers and he gave the names to the prosecuting attorney and the sheriff. He said he forced the shooting, as he refused to give up the money, and in the fight recognized his assailants, who killed him to save themselves from being known.

It is reported that the robbery was committed by several depositors, who, fearing the bank was about to fail, followed Struble to the bank, demanded their money and upon being refused shot the cashier and looted the bank.

Sheriff Mogg, deputy sheriff Estee, Prosecuting Attorney McNamara, with several other county officers, held a meeting Sunday at Mt. Pleasant to consult and make further plans for the cap-Leture of Cashier Struble's murderers. It was decided that everything is being done that will eventually lead to the arrest of the guilty men. It is thought that three prominent men in this vicinity are the murderers, but officers will not divulge names. They are watched every moment, day and night, and cannot escape. Arrests are likely to take place at any moment.

There is great excitement among the people here and at Mt. Pleasant and lynching is freely talked by many. It is thought officers would not dare to make arrests at this hour, as they could not protect murderers against the summary vengeance of the people. Prominent detectives are expected to assist. While the suspected men cannot escape, Sheriff Mogg besitates, fearing mob violence. The prosecuting attorney claims that Cashier Struble, a few minutes before his death, gave him the names of three men whom he positively identified as among his assailants. They are all well-known residents of Isabella county, and are depositors at the Shepherd bank. Two of the three men accused in Struble's ante-mortem statement will be able to produce impregnabie alibis. The fact that the cashier was under the influence of morphine seems to detract somewhat from the F. Ryan, owner of the bank, says the amount taken by the robbers will not exceed $200. Many of the account books of the bank are missing also, which scems to make it certain that the pernary burglars.

Saved by a Plucky Woman.

Seabright, N. J., Aug. 23,-About noon Sunday there was great excitement in the surf in front of the Octagon hotel. Two young women, more venturesome than the other bathers, swam beyond the safety ropes. The undertow was strong, and Miss Wilson was drawn downward. She screamed for help, and her companion seized her and swam shoreward, when other bathers swam to her assistance and the whole party landed safely but badly exhausted. The rescuer is one of the belles of Seabright and an expert swimmer. She is the wife of Thomas D. O'Brien, a prominent broker on the Chicago board of trade.

FROM THE GOLD FIELDS. Returning Miners Tell of Their Ex-

pertences and Luck. Seattle, Wash., Aug. 23 .- The first party of Klondikers to brave the dangers of a trip overland to civilization arrived in Seattle Saturday on the steamer Starr, with 90 pounds of gold taken from five claims. Four are on Bonanza and one on Eldorado creek. The lucky miners are Edward Thorpe, of Seattle, who was supposed to be dead, George Stewart, of Tacoma, and Joseph Winterholen, of Juneau. They carried their gold in two large black satchels, and owing to their citified appearance did not attract much attention when they hastened from the steamer to the car that took them to the home of Thorpe's father. They were not anxious to attract attention, and changed their dress at Juneau. They are not talkative, but what they do say is conservative and worthy of consideration. They say they came out because food was scarce. The money brought was what they believed would pay their expenses and give them a big supply of food. They report rich stakes on Domicion creek and Stewart river. People were rushing to Dominion creek. They were surprised to hear of the intention of the Canadian government to collect royalty on gold, and predicted that the miners would resist. They estimate that the North American Transportation and Trading company's steamer Portland will bring down $100,000 to $500,000 instead of $1,500,000. They say that their clean-ups were made after the miners who came down on the Portland left the diggings. They say that there was a lack of rain up to July 12, and this interfered with working some claims. They think that the Portland on her last trip down will probably bring a large amount of gold.

They do not say much about the perilous journey they had after leaving the head of Pelly river, 175 miles from Dawson City. Their pack horse fel! over a precipice, with nearly all of their provisions. They nearly starved before reaching salt water August 13. It took them 40 days to reach salt water from Dawson, Edward Thorpe, his brother William, George Stewart and George Bound, a cousin of the Thorpes, own a half interest in the claim adjoining Clarence Berry's on Eldorado creek. They own four others on Bonanza creek, tipple where a number of strikers are adjoining those of George Cormack, the discoverer. They do not pretend to give values of their claims. Winterholen owns a quarter interest in one and one-sixteenth interest in another on Bonanza. He said: "I have not done through his body. Grongron Pimold much work on my claim. The value of the dirt is from $1,000 to $1,200 to the length of the sluice box."

San Francisco, Aug. 23.-A special to the Bulletin from Dyea, Alaska, August 14, tells of the pitiful condition of many of the searchers for gold, who are now stopping at Dyea, unable to proceed farther on their journey, owing to lack of funds for provisions. Many of those now in Dyea are physically unable to make the trying trip and there are many who will suffer great hardships before the winter is over. Many of those who arrived on the steamer Williamette are absolutely without shelter, seemingly having gone to that cold region depending on the open-heartedness of others to keep them living. Many of the people who are unable to reach Dawson this winter have two tons of provisions and no possible means of transportation.

Chicago, Aug. 23 .- One year ago Fred Phiscator was a poor man engaged in the lumber business at Barodo, Mich. Saturday night he arrived in Chicago on his way home from Alaska. In a big red pocketbook which he carried in the inside pocket of his vest there reposed a certificate of deposit for $120,000, beside which Mr. Phiscator remarked that he had refused $200,000 for the claim he left behind, and thought it was worth $1,000,000. It is his intention to spend the winter with his family and friends and in the spring he will lead a party of friends to the scene of his fortune making.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 23 .- The next mining excitement will be on Peace river, in Northwest territory. Mining has been carried on there in a slow way for years, but discoveries made this summer leave no room to doubt that an immense amount of gold will be taken out of that river and its tributaries during the next two years. A. D. Kitchen, a prominent mining broker of this city. has just returned from British Columbia. At Vancouver he met a young weight of his dying statement. John man named Johnson, who had just come down from Peace river with his partner, bringing $18,000. The $18,000 brought out had been cleaned up by the three men in three months. They went to Peace river early in the spring, and petrators of the crime were not ordi- Johnson started out in July. Johnson said that all the miners on Peace river were making a great deal of money with the crudest of appliances. Johnson told Mr. Kitchen that if he wanted gold all he had to do was to go to Peace river.

[The Peace river country is reached most easily from Edmonton, which is 833 miles from Vancouver, being 191 miles north of Calgary on the Canadian Pacific railroad. Fort Chippewyan, on Athabasca lake, to miles, and thence down Athabasca river and lake by boat. Chippewyan is 465 miles from Edmonton. Steamboats go up the Peace river for a considerable distance. A number of its tributaries, including the Loon and Deer rivers, are as rich as the main stream. The Peace river rises in the main stream. The Peace river rises in the eastern slopes of the Rocky mountains, a little north of the center of British Columbia. In the northern continuation of the same mountains rise the Klondike, Pelly, Stewart and other gold-bearing tributaries of the Yukon.]

Spring Valley has now 800 families on the relief list and outside cities have contributed over $3,000 in cash and provisions for the destitute miners and their families. Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 23.-Religious services were held in the strikers' several camps Sunday and all were largely attended, but notwithstanding the religious air pervading the camps a conflict between workers and strikers took place in the afternoon, during which three strikers were badly hurt, but none are in a serious condition. Five of the men who are working for the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company went to William Seamon's boarding house, about 11/2 miles from Oak Hill quartered, for the purpose of persuading the strikers to go to work. The meeting was a stormy one and resulted in Antonio Podasky being shot near the heart, the bullet going almost was shot in the eve and Botiste Dalmeso was cut with a razor.
